

Our Water Is Not For Sale

Say NO to water markets!

www.ourwaterisnotforsale.com

780.577.1446

Our Water Survey – St. Albert Candidates

1. Full Name

Nolan Crouse

2. E-mail (optional)

nolanc@telusplanet.net

3. Phone Number (optional)

7808630028

4. Website (optional)

www.nolancrouse.com

1. On July 28, the UN General Assembly passed a resolution recognizing the human right to water and sanitation, with 124 states voting in favour, none opposed and 42, including Canada, abstaining. Do you support the official legal recognition of water as a human right?

Yes

2. Do you believe that the provincial water allocation system should be designed to prioritize basic human needs and ecosystem health while respecting treaty obligations to First Nations?

Yes

3. Based on your current level of knowledge of the issue, are you in favour of the province's direction towards a water allocation system which would allocate water according to ability to pay and leave the market to determine access to water resources for all users?

Yes

4. Do you think that municipal leaders and Albertans have been sufficiently informed about and consulted on the allocation review and the various policy options available?

No

5. If elected will you publicly call for broad-based consultations on the allocation review, which fully and meaningfully explore all policy options, not just market-based options, for updating the Water Act before the provincial government introduces any changes to the legislation?

No

Nolan Crouse is the only St. Albert mayoral candidate to complete this survey.

Please continue for responses from candidates for Councillor.

Our Water Is Not For Sale

Say NO to water markets!

www.ourwaterisnotforsale.com

780.577.1446

Our Water Survey – St. Albert Candidates

1. Full Name

Len Bracko

2. E-mail (optional)

len@bracko.ca

3. Phone Number (optional)

No Response

4. Website (optional)

www.lenbracko.ca

1. On July 28, the UN General Assembly passed a resolution recognizing the human right to water and sanitation, with 124 states voting in favour, none opposed and 42, including Canada, abstaining. Do you support the official legal recognition of water as a human right?

Yes

2. Do you believe that the provincial water allocation system should be designed to prioritize basic human needs and ecosystem health while respecting treaty obligations to First Nations?

Yes

3. Based on your current level of knowledge of the issue, are you in favour of the province's direction towards a water allocation system which would allocate water according to ability to pay and leave the market to determine access to water resources for all users?

No

4. Do you think that municipal leaders and Albertans have been sufficiently informed about and consulted on the allocation review and the various policy options available?

No

5. If elected will you publicly call for broad-based consultations on the allocation review, which fully and meaningfully explore all policy options, not just market-based options, for updating the Water Act before the provincial government introduces any changes to the legislation?

I need to learn more about this issue before determining my future actions.

Our Water Is Not For Sale

Say NO to water markets!

www.ourwaterisnotforsale.com

780.577.1446

Our Water Survey – St. Albert Candidates

1. Full Name

J.C.(James)Burrows

2. E-mail (optional)

burrowsj@telusplanet.net

3. Phone Number (optional)

780-458-4958

4. Website (optional)

www.jamesburrows.ca

1. On July 28, the UN General Assembly passed a resolution recognizing the human right to water and sanitation, with 124 states voting in favour, none opposed and 42, including Canada, abstaining. Do you support the official legal recognition of water as a human right?

Yes

2. Do you believe that the provincial water allocation system should be designed to prioritize basic human needs and ecosystem health while respecting treaty obligations to First Nations?

Yes

3. Based on your current level of knowledge of the issue, are you in favour of the province's direction towards a water allocation system which would allocate water according to ability to pay and leave the market to determine access to water resources for all users?

No

4. Do you think that municipal leaders and Albertans have been sufficiently informed about and consulted on the allocation review and the various policy options available?

No

5. If elected will you publicly call for broad-based consultations on the allocation review, which fully and meaningfully explore all policy options, not just market-based options, for updating the Water Act before the provincial government introduces any changes to the legislation?

No

Our Water Is Not For Sale

Say NO to water markets!

www.ourwaterisnotforsale.com

780.577.1446

Our Water Survey – St. Albert Candidates

1. Full Name

Malcolm Parker

2. E-mail (optional)

mjparker@telus.net

3. Phone Number (optional)

780-458-4727

4. Website (optional)

www.malcolmparker.ca

1. On July 28, the UN General Assembly passed a resolution recognizing the human right to water and sanitation, with 124 states voting in favour, none opposed and 42, including Canada, abstaining. Do you support the official legal recognition of water as a human right?

Yes

Water is a resource that has to be protected as it is essential to the sustainability of life.

2. Do you believe that the provincial water allocation system should be designed to prioritize basic human needs and ecosystem health while respecting treaty obligations to First Nations?

No

Basic human needs and ecosystem health apply to all humans so why would there be exceptions?

3. Based on your current level of knowledge of the issue, are you in favour of the province's direction towards a water allocation system which would allocate water according to ability to pay and leave the market to determine access to water resources for all users?

No

I need to gain more knowledge however if there was water scarcity then priorities for allocation would have to be considered.

4. Do you think that municipal leaders and Albertans have been sufficiently informed about and consulted on the allocation review and the various policy options available?

No

I certainly have received little information.

5. If elected will you publicly call for broad-based consultations on the allocation review, which fully and meaningfully explore all policy options, not just market-based options, for updating the Water Act before the provincial government introduces any changes to the legislation?

Yes

I would want my municipality to be involved in a collaborative process.